

Media : Channel NewsAsia
Date : 8 May 2009

School of the Arts to be situated at Zubir Said Drive

SINGAPORE: The School of the Arts (SOTA) will have a permanent address from next year.

It will be situated at No 1, Zubir Said Drive, a new road next to The Cathay at Dhoby Ghaut.

Making the announcement was acting Minister for Information, Communications and the Arts Lui Tuck Yew, at the school's Awards Day ceremony.

He said that the name of the street commemorates the late composer of Singapore's National Anthem, and is a fitting tribute to an early pioneer of the arts in Singapore.

Mr Lui said in recent years, Singapore has witnessed the growth of the arts and a renewed emphasis on culture in Singapore.

With the growing importance of Singapore's creative industries, Mr Lui added SOTA students are entering an exciting new phase of the country's development, one where there will be new opportunities to build fulfilling careers.

Source: Channel NewsAsia © MediaCorp News Pte Ltd. Permission required for reproduction.